

Photography

for your Wedding Day

Memories that last a lifetime

Everybody remembers their wedding day! It's one of the greatest days of your life, so it makes sense to choose a professional photographer to record it instead of leaving it to family and friends .

We've been entrusted with this responsibility for well over ten years now and we think our approach is as "user friendly" as possible. Here's how it works:

Instead of complicated package arrangements, we simply charge a fee for our time and materials such as film, petrol etc. We then produce a set of preview photographs and let you choose as many reprints as you like. We can also show you a vast range of wedding albums in which to display them.

Examine our price guide and price list opposite. If you like our approach (and our prices!) the next step is for us to meet. You can look through some of our recent work, get answers to any questions you may have and we can chat about your wedding plans and how our photography can fit in with them.

If you're happy with this and decide that we're the photographers you want, the booking form needs to be completed and the payment for our time and materials made. The amount is shown opposite. A booking confirmation and a receipt will be sent to you. No more money is then payable until you have seen and chosen your photographs.

We can then relax until about three weeks before the wedding day when we need to arrange a second meeting. Here we'll discuss the details of how the photography will work on the day. We'll need to chat about where the photography is going to start, what venues we'll use afterwards, how we can make the most of the time available, what we'll do if the weather is unkind and the many other details that make the day go smoothly.

Price Guide

We've divided our charges into three parts:

- a) For our time, skills and materials.
- b) For those reprints you choose.
- c) For any album you choose.

Part A. This is a payment to cover our time and materials on the day and afterwards, the provision of a set of preview photographs (both prints and CD supplied) for you to view.

Part B. The previews are yours to examine and enjoy for a month. During this time you simply decide which photographs you would like copies of and let us know. Orders from friends and family are very welcome. You are free to choose as many as you wish at the prices shown. There is no minimum order (although the price drops as you order more)

Part C. Several hundred wedding albums are available! We can guide you through the maze, or you can make your own arrangements. The choice is yours!
